FAC SPOTLIGHT:
Calling All Finance Cabinet Artists to Submit Artwork for Display in Capitol Annex

Out of nearly 2,000 employees in the Finance Cabinet, we're pretty sure there are a few artists out there...that's why Secretary William Landrum is putting out a call for artists to submit their work to be considered for display in the secretary's office suite or along the hallway outside.

"I know we have talented people who do great work for the cabinet," said Sec. Landrum. "What I think will be fun and interesting is to have the opportunity to see their artistic side as well."

The artwork will be on a 6-month rotation beginning Sept. 1. All types of artwork, media (photos, paintings, textiles, pottery, carvings, sculpture, etc.) and sizes will be considered.

"I enjoy all types of art and look forward to seeing some wonderfully creative pieces," added Sec. Landrum.

Employees of administratively attached agencies are also invited to submit artwork.

Distinctive Service Award Given to Three Building and Mechanical Services Employees

Recently Sec. Landrum received a memo from the vice chair and commissioner of the Public Service Commission (PSC) praising the work of several employees in the Office of Building and Mechanical Services.

Here is are their comments:

“The Secretary and Commissioners Office wanted to recognize Don Moore, Dominique Redd and Donald Tressler for their quick and decisive actions in the wake of the tragic events at PSC. Their dedication to duty and can do attitude was recognized and appreciated by people working in the area of the incident. The PSC Leadership wanted all to know the level of professionalism these three exhibited and to express their sincere appreciation for their compassion and gratitude for their swift actions.”

“I too, want to thank Don, Dominique and Donald for their work,” said Sec. Landrum. “I am not surprised by this recognition because I know we have wonderful employees. Receiving commendations such as this once again remind me of why I always tell people I am fortunate to work for the best employees in state government.”
